THE DAILY AND WEEKLY HERALD has more than double the circulation of any other paper published in Southern California. Business men recognize it accordingly as the best advertising medium South of San Francisco.

SATURDAY, FEB. 12, 1876.

Fruits and Vegetables.

Our article on the subject of fruits and vegetables is having its effect. We hear of men everywhere in the valley increasing the size of their gardens and orchards. This is right; begin early and plant and re-plant and keep on planting. Do not think of stopping with one crop in Los Angeles county. Vegetables, berries and fruits can be raised the year round here. And all that is required to make a fortune at this business is the gift of continuance. Stick to it, and you will succeed. Just so soon as the farmers begin this business with a will, the attention of the world will be directed to us as the best place to procure these articles. And as soon as this occurs we shall have a fixed market with large dealers, who will pay the best prices for everything we have to sell. We know of no country so well adapted for raising and curing fruits and vegetables as this country, and the time is not distant when it will produce an annual revenue to our county of many millions.

The School Law.

The following is the State law incorporating the Board of Education and defining their authority:

The Board of Education at the close of each fiscal year shall submit to the Common Council of said city a written statement of the amount of money on hand for school purposes, and the amount that will be required for the maintenance of a public school for a period of ten months, over and above the amount to be received from the State and county appropriations for the ensuing fiscal year; and said Common Council shall levy and collect a tax sufficient to raise such amount, in the same manner as other city taxes are collected, and shall cause the same to be paid into the Common School Fund of the city.

It has been the object of the HERALD, in sneaking on this subject, not to object to the law, but to economize. The law is all right, and with a judicious and economical Board of Education the school tax can never be oppressive upon the citizens of Los Angeles. It is true the aggregate amount of funds required for educational purposes, such as building school houses, purchasing lots and paying salaries to teachers foot up a large sum, but the tax being distributed among the entire population does not oppress any one, and the aggregate amount is not as great as it would be under the old system of private schools. But notwithstanding this it is well for us to economize; and to do so the Board of Education must take time to inform themselves as to the amount that will be required to meet the wants of the schools during the year. These extra assessments and collections, harass and disturbs the community, and are very expensive. Men who accept office of any kind should understand that any neglect of duty upon their part always results in expense to their constituents. It is true the School Directors are not paid for their services, only in the gratitude of the people and the approbation of a good conscience. Yet the office is of as much importance to the people as that of a legislator, and no man should accept it with the impression that he can attend to it or let it alone at pleasure. We do not make these remarks to cast any reflections upon the present board. They are all good citizens and we hope under their administration our educational department will progress pleasantly. It is very evident that all the difficulties in regard to school matters in this city, was caused by the neglect of duty upon the part of officials, either in the Board of Directors or in the City Council. The disagreement between the two boards was caused for the want of information, and the want of information was caused by neglect of duty to inform themselves.

County Hospital Physician.

The Republican of the 10th instant treats us to a well written article on the County Hospital. It insinuates that there are grave and numerous complaints about the treatment of the sick and wounded, but exonerates Dr. Brooke from all blame even if there is neglect towards and suffering among the patients. The Republican says to attend to the wants of the institution properly would require the constant attention of Dr. Brooke. "But it is unreasonable to suppose he can give much of his attention to the hospital at $40 per month." The Republican further says: "It seems to us that the first duty of the Board of Supervisors is to raise Dr. Brooke's salary. Justice demands that the hospital physician should be well paid and Dr. Brooke's present duties entitle him to one hundred dollars per month." Now we have no sympathy with this kind of business. Dr. Brooke knew before he bid the pitiful sum of $40 per month what he would have to do at the hospital as well as he does now. We presume he is a regular graduate, and if he is he did not go into this "bad job" blindly. Everybody well understood the object he had in view in making this low bid for his services. He was a stranger here, and the position of hospital physician would be a good advertisement for him, by which he would obtain practice in other quarters. From the article in the Republican it appears it has brought him a large practice, so much that he has not time to attend to the duties of the hospital any longer at so small a sum. It strikes us that he is very ungrateful to an institution that has brought him to notice so quick and given him so much practice. He ought really to pay something to an advertising institution like this. We have had enough of back pay and raising salaries in our country. We are willing to pay all our public servants good salaries, we don't want cheap men, but when cheap men bid themselves into office we have no inclination to raise on them. They are better judges of the value of their own services than we are, and if they say forty dollars per month we say forty dollars per month. And if they get sick of their bargain let them resign and we will have a new deal. There is no law compelling Dr. Brooke to keep his position, but there is law to compel him to do his duty while he does keep it. The law of humanity, the law of God and the law of man all demand of him a full discharge of the duties of his position.

P. S.—Since writing the above we have learned that the Supervisors have raised the salary of Dr. Brooke to the sum of $1,000 per annum. We take back nothing that we have said, but we add that it is a game of sharp practice to slip into office as a "cheap man" and then get his salary raised.

O Times—O Customs.

The circumstances which gave Cicero occasion to utter these words, finds a parallel in every Government at one time or another. Plutarch in his biographical sketch of Cicero says of him: "He was indeed the man who most effectually showed the Romans what charms eloquence can add to truth, and that justice is invincible when properly supported." This great Roman and incorruptible statesman was the only barrier presented to the covert attacks of the bloody Cataline and the impudent Lucullus, when these arch-conspirators were striking at the liberty of Republican Rome. Well would it be for the people and statesmen of America if they would study history more closely. Let us study the causes briefly which led to the elevation of Cicero to the Consulship. Plutarch says: "Yet for the sake of their country the patricians joined the plebeians in raising him to the Consulship." The occasion was this: The change which Sylla introduced into the constitution, at first seemed a harsh measure, but by time and custom it became what many thought not a bad one. "At present," says Plutarch, "there were some who wanted to bring in another change merely to gratify their own avarice, and without the least view of the public good. They had a chief of bold and enterprising spirit—Lucius Catiline. Again the biographer says: "The vast inequality of the citizens in point of property prepared Rome for a change. Men of nobility had impoverished themselves by their great expenses, their entertainments, on bribing for offices and erecting magnificent buildings, by which means the riches of the city had fallen into the hands of mean people. In this tottering state of the commonwealth there needed no great force to overturn it, and was in the power of any bold adventurer to accomplish its ruin." When we take a calm survey of our present political status and see how indifferent, yea, may we not say designing, men are respecting the true interests of our commonwealth, does it not seem that nineteen centuries have brought us back to Rome, and we stand upon the very brink of ruin? Are there no Catilines or Lucullus manipulating American politics? Why is it that men of all parties do not rise to the height of the grand argument of peace and prosperity instead of discord and dissension? Why do Republicans exhumate the putrid carcasses of war issues and Democrats help to dissect them? Are these things but a mask behind which is concealed the alter of empire upon which the American republic is to be sacrificed? Or are designing men so greedy of power and the spoils of office, as that the whole country must be thrown into a fever of excitement and sectional animosity and kept so. O, for some patriotic Cicero to rise up in our Legislature and rebuke the unpatriotic spirit, and cry aloud in the words of the great Roman: "How long! Oh, Catiline, why you abuse our patience!" What a contrast the Centennial, which ought to be a jubilee of freedom, peace and good will, and a return to honest, patriotic government, is ushered in through the grim file of skeleton dead-issues and prophetic fears, of this being the first and only Centennial of the Republic.

Pomona as a Health Resort.

J. A. Johnson of the Santa Barbara Press, who spent several months lecturing in the East last year on Semi-Tropical California, wrote to his paper from Los Angeles last November regarding Pomona, as follows: "The discovery of this lovely place free from fogs, not too hot in summer, nor too cold in winter, where the pure and bracing air is freed from the moisture always felt so oppressively by the sensitive invalid on the sea-shore, was to me like a revelation, and I hasten, as a duty I owe to so many readers of the Press, to report the discovery, for there are thousands whom I addressed last year that ought to be made acquainted with the existence and bright promise of this three-months old village."

Hamill, the oarsman, believed in Dio Lewis. He ate mush and oatmeal, and cornbobs and slabs, and died a victim to his belief.

[SPECIAL TO THE HERALD.]

PACIFIC COAST.

San Francisco News.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 11th.—Judge McKee this morning rendered his decision on the motion by the defense in the libel suit of J. W. Simon vs. Fred McClellish et al to strike out those portions of the complaint referring to the Bank of California. It will be remembered that a similar motion was made in Judge Morrison's court in the action brought by Pickering, Fitch and Simon against the same defendant, and it was granted therein. Simon then individually brought suit against McClellish et al in Judge McKee's court, for the special purpose, doubtless, of again testing the same material issue, and obtaining, if possible, an opportunity to bring out certain alleged facts of importance regarding Ralston's management of the bank affairs. When defendant's counsel made the motion in this court the matter was argued at length. Now Judge McKee decides the reverse of Judge Morrison, denying the motion to strike out. It is a strong point gained for the Bulletin's side.

A man named Weaver who is charged with being an embezzler of $10,000 from Dunkspiel & Co of this city was arrested yesterday near Elko, Nevada, and will be brought back soon as a requisition can be obtained. It commenced raining at noon when the wind changed to the northward. Rainfall this season 22 1/2 inches.

A woman named Mrs. Amelia Boyle committed suicide yesterday by jumping into a well at a nursery on Harrison street. She leaves a husband and two children. Cause insanity induced by poverty.

Yesterday a policeman tried to arrest a deserter from the army when the man broke away on California street, the police fired four shots after him, two of which went into offices in the vicinity, and one passed over the head of some boys standing in the street. The deserter was captured but not by the officer's firing. The latter will be up before the Police Commissioners at the next meeting.

Night Dispatches.

PACIFIC COAST.

[FROM THE SPECIAL REPORTER OF THE DAILY HERALD.]

Overflow.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 11th.—A special dispatch to the HERALD says: The rise in the upper Sacramento river, in consequence of the severe storm, has caused the levees about Colusa to give way so that the whole country for miles above Colusa is submerged. All the vast wheat fields in that neighborhood are under water, and thousands of head of cattle have been drowned. The loss is incalculable. The town of Princeton is under water, and Colusa itself is feet under. It is impossible to go in any direction except by boats. The river here is twenty feet and a half above low water mark and still rising.

Legislative Proceedings.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 11th.—Graves, from the Santa Barbara delegation, submitted a favorable report on the Assembly bill making the County Clerk of Santa Barbara county a salaried office.

Satterwhite, from the San Diego delegation, reported upon the Assembly bill authorizing the Town Trustees of San Diego to cede certain tide lands to the United States, recommending the passage of the bill.

Bills were introduced by Hill, setting the price per folio of the translation of the laws into Spanish at fifteen cents.

A bill was introduced by Numan to provide homes for homeless children in the city of San Francisco.

Satterwhite introduced a bill increasing the salary of the District Attorney of San Bernardino county to $3,000.

A concurrent resolution was introduced by Beazell asking Congress to make an appropriation for the further improvement of Oakland harbor.

A message was received from the Governor stating that he had approved the bill relating to the adoption of children, and the bill concerning fees in the State Land Office.

The special order was then announced and the Senate went into the discussion of the concurrent resolution of Mr. Lindsey, relative to the withdrawal of certain grants of land from the Southern Pacific Railroad. After a prolonged debate in which Senators Edgerton, Farley, Haymond, McGarvey and Lewis took part on behalf of the Railroad Company, and Senators Tuttle, O'Connor and Hilborn advocating the anti-railroad doctrine, a substitute prepared by Pierson, which, in effect, amounted to a repudiation of the whole matter. The tally showed 20 ayes to 18 noes. The substitute was declared adopted. At this point several Senators of the most Radical wing of the Republicans joined with the anti-railroad Democrats in a motion to indefinitely postpone the whole matter, carried by a vote of 21 ayes to 17 noes. On ballot on the adoption of the substitute, Bush voted with the anti-railroad wing against the substitute, and on the balloting for the indefinite postponement of the whole matter, he voted aye. Graves and Satterwhite in both instances voted aye. The discussion took a very wide varying and included a canvassing of the political platforms of all the parties in the State. Many Senators struggled to place themselves right on the record. At one stage of the debate, the character of United States Senator Sargent was attacked in such a manner as to evoke a warm rejoinder from O'Connor, of the Democratic side. He stated in substance that he had known Sargent for many years, and had never known him to be guilty of any of the acts charged, nor of any action unbecoming a man of his high standing. His integrity was beyond question.

There are fifty-eight bills on the Senate file which have accumulated during the last three or four days of the debate. Adjourned until Monday at 3 P. M. ASSEMBLY—Swan from the Committee on Federal Relations, reported against the concurrent resolution relative to making national currency receivable par for all Custom House duties. The Assembly then took up the resolution discharging the clerks and finally ordered a number of them discharged.

Murphy, of Del Norte, offered a resolution requesting the Speaker to invite the ministers of all denominations to the session of the House by prayer without pecuniary compensation. Laid on the table.

Bradley presented a resolution that when it is ascertained that any member or attaché traveling on committee duty receives and uses a free pass that he shall forfeit all the mileage to which he is entitled.

Archer, from the Committee on Corporations, reported the Senate resolution relative to obtaining cheaper telegraphic facilities, recommending its passage. Also the Assembly concurring in the resolution to the change of route of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and the withdrawal of their land grants, stating that a majority were against the resolution and a minority in its favor.

This is a counterpart of the resolutions which have engrossed the attention of the Senate for the past two weeks.

Preston presented a minority report from the Joint Committee on Translation of the laws, and protesting against the award of the contract to J. F. Goderi, made by a majority of the committee. He asked that the Assembly take such action in the matter as they may deem fit. The report is signed by Preston and Crutcher. The majority have not as yet reported, but their action is looked for with much interest.

Bills were introduced by Lamborne providing for the better protection of the county treasury of Los Angeles, constituting the County Judge and Auditor a Board of Examiners to examine accounts and vouchers, count the money once a month, and directing them to make a sworn statement of the amount of money in the treasury every month, and to publish the same in a county newspaper. The Board of Supervisors are authorized to increase the bond of the Treasurer when they deem the safety of the money in the treasury requires it. Any violation of the provisions on the part of the Examiners is made a felony and the District Attorney is directed to keep a close scrutiny over their proceedings. His failure to do so to be punished by a forfeiture of $500.

By McConnell, authorizing the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county to locate and build a bridge across the Los Angeles river and to levy a tax for the payment of the cost. The special order calling a constitutional convention being announced, after a short debate was postponed.

The Bank Commissioner bill was recommitted to the Judiciary Committee.

A bill was introduced by Berry appropriating money to insure the State printing office.

Adjourned. B.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 9th.—The Committee on Contingent Expenses recommended in reference to discharging half the Senate clerks, resolution laid over.

The Judiciary Committee reported favorably on Assembly bill creating twenty-one Judicial Districts.

Santa Cruz delegation reported favorably on Assembly bill authorizing the purchase of a railroad.

The Governor's message announced the approval of the bill abolishing the board of Tide Water Commissioners. The message and bill was full three hours under discussion and indefinitely postponed.

Murphy, of Del Norte, offered a concurrent resolution requesting Congress to take an action towards the release of Edward Candon, a citizen of the United States suspected of Fenianism, confined in the British prison for eight years.

The irrigation bill was made the special order for the 10th.

The bill providing for commissioners on transportation, freights and fares was made the special order for February 16th.

McConnell, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, reported favorably on the bill repealing the libel law, and a bill repealing the act making women ineligible to educational offices, and reported it as unconstitutional.

The Committee on Agriculture was authorized to send for persons and papers to afford a better investigation of the affairs of the State Agricultural Society.

Abbott introduced a bill to incorporate Monterey.

McConnell introduced a bill to regulate the practice of medicine in this State.

The Assembly then considered a bill relative to the compensation of attaches and abolishing certain offices. After four hours' discussion the bill was ordered engrossed.

Adjourned.

It is generally understood that J. D. Goodwin of Plumas county will be appointed Judge of the new District.

Little's Living Age, number 1651, for the week ending Jan. 20th, is the fifth weekly number of the new volume. It contains A Prussian Campaign in Holland, from the Edinburgh Review; Left-handed Elsa, Blackwood; Bonnet, and the Literary Society of his Age, by the author of "Mirabeau," Temple Bar; The Story of Monique, by Julia Kavanagh; A Neglected Humanist, Temple Bar; A New Paper-making Material, Chambers' Journal; How to Breathe Properly, Public Health; The Monasteries and the Poor Laws, The Month; Cheese Factories in America, &c., together with the usual poetry and miscellany. The present is a favorable time to subscribe, beginning with the new volume. For fifty-two numbers of sixty-four large pages each, (or more than 3000 pages a year) the subscription-price ($8), is low, or still better, for $10.50 any one of the $4 monthlies or weeklies is sent with The Living Age for a year, both postpaid. Little & Gay, Boston, are the publishers.

We have upon our table the first number of the Los Angeles Weekly Trade Circular and Commercial Reporter, published by Mr. T. F. Swanwick. It is a very creditable paper in appearance, being a folio about half the size of the Daily Herald, and containing sixteen columns of reading matter and advertisements. Mr. Swanwick seems to have met with excellent encouragement in a business way in commencing his new enterprise, and we have no doubt he will fully repay the confidence bestowed upon him by our citizens. Editorially the Trade Circular displays ability, and has altogether the ring of the true metal. It will be devoted, as announced at its head, to the commercial, agricultural and mining interests of Southern California. We wish our new neighbor every success.

GOLD REPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO Feb. 10
Gold, 113 1/2
Greenbacks—Buying, 87 1/2; selling, 88.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Old papers, suitable for wrapping, can be obtained at this office.

Remember the Matinee this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Cameron will have a full supply of fish to-day.

Professor H. W. Hand, of the Lenton—Ware troupe is a first-class musician and also has a reputation as a composer. He appears nightly.

Among the shipments Friday were 25 sacks of barley, for Hellman, Haas & Co.; 16 sacks of rye from Beall & Co., and considerable way freight.

"J. Yamill" is reported at the Commercial Hotel, San Francisco. We suppose the name is intended for Yarnell.

Mr. A. McKenzie has opened a fine sample room in regular city style at No. 34, Spring street. He keeps no bar, but draws from original packages and sells at wholesale or retail.

Mr. F. B. Taylor, of the San Francisco house of F. B. Taylor & Co., dealers in oil, is in our city. He is on a tour of investigation to the San Fernando oil regions.

The masquerade at Turn-Verein Hall to-night will be the best ever given in Los Angeles. Secure your spectator's seat at Lewin's so that you can enjoy the sights.

All pools on the jumping match are off and to-night at the Fashion saloon the money will be returned. A new sale of pools will then take place for the match which occurs on Monday.

The Terpsichorean Social Club gave their Valentine reception at Stearns' hall last night. The affair was very enjoyable, as the receptions of this club generally prove.

Seymour says, steamers may sink, banks suspend, but the Grange Store will run, and is determined to sell goods at the lowest possible rates to meet the demand of Grangers or any other man.

The prizes to be awarded at the Masquerade Ball of the Turn-Verein to-night are on exhibition in the window of Stackpole, the jeweler. They comprise an elegant silver cake basket and a pair of gold sleeve buttons.

A special meeting of the Council was called for last evening to receive the report of the Committee on the East Los Angeles bridge. As they failed to secure a quorum, an adjournment was taken until Monday at 2 P. M.

We learn that Mr. Martin Lehman has the management of the dramatic entertainment to come off on the 22d inst. for the benefit of the Fire Company. Mr. Lehman's well known ability as an amateur will insure a full success in the performance.

The revised city charter which is to be submitted to the Legislature was before the Council last night. If it passes the municipal gauntlet it will probably become the foundation of our city government. It is said that the document is longer than the moral law.

Judge Lindley informs us that he has tried a can of the new oil refined at San Fernando, and his family are highly pleased with it. In fact they think it the best burning fluid that they have ever seen. It makes a clear light, has no smoke or smell and lasts a third longer than ordinary kerosene.

Mr. B. F. Smith, the agent for the celebrated Studebaker wagons, is stopping at the St. Charles and canvassing the country in the interest of this celebrated wagon manufactory, which is supposed to be the largest in the world. A fully equipped double wagon is there turned out at the rate of six wagons per hour, or one wagon every ten minutes.

Our public spirited citizens should not forget the Dramatic Entertainment and Ball to be given on the evening of February 22d for the benefit of the Thirty-Eight Engine Company. Messrs. J. Kuhrt, E. H. Workman, Mendel Meyer and M. D. Madegan have been appointed a committee to dispose of tickets for the liberal encouragement.

The Lenton-Ware Combination drew another good house to their performance last night and as usual everybody was delighted with it. We think that the entertainment furnished by this company is one of the most pleasantly arranged and varied of any that we have ever seen, and it has certainly proved a trump card in Los Angeles. There will be a matinee at 2 o'clock this afternoon and a performance next Wednesday evening.

Delay in the Post Office.

Three large mails arrived at the Post-office last night—the first at 7 o'clock and the latest at 10:15—and no effort was made to distribute the matter until this morning. We think this delay was inexcusable on the part of the Postmaster, especially as people are generally so anxious to get their delayed letters and papers. To-day there will be a rush and jam at the Post-office, and probably no delivery can be made before noon, if, indeed, at that time. Meanwhile, there will be a hundred people or more waiting around the premises and reviling Uncle Sam and the powers that be. We offer these remarks in the kindest feeling to Mr. Bent, the Postmaster, knowing that he is always willing to exert himself to the utmost in the interests of the public. Had he appreciated the emergency as fully as we do, we feel confident that he would have had a force at work on extra time last night, preparing the mail matter for delivery at an early hour this morning. There may be ample excuse for the delay, however, and we hold our columns open for such excuse if there be any, and we are willing to make full reparation if we have been guilty of an injustice to Mr. Bent.

The Mails.

The herculean efforts of Col. Hewitt and his corps of teamsters to bring the delayed mails down from the tunnel were crowned with success yesterday evening. A four-horse team arrived at 7 P. M. and another about 9 o'clock, the two bringing thirty-four sacks of mail matter. "Lance," the driver for Osborne, who brought in the first mail, started from Los Angeles at half past three in the afternoon and made eleven miles and return in three hours and a half, which must be counted good time. He states that the wagon road is very passable, but the railroad is badly washed. The telegraph was all right as far as he went. Six men had brought the mail on their backs a number of miles down to the point where Lance found it. Another mail arrived from the steamer at 10:15 last night. There will be letters for everybody to-day as soon as the clerks can get them distributed.

The Bal Masque.

There will be a carnival of merriment at Turn-Verein Hall to-night. The most thorough and extensive preparations for the occasion have been made, and it will doubtless prove the finest affair of the kind ever seen in Los Angeles. Four prizes will be awarded, as follows:

One for best Lady Mask.
One for handsomest Lady Mask.
One for best Gentleman Mask.
One for handsomest Gentleman Mask.

The best music has been engaged for the occasion. Refreshments can be had from 10 P. M. and during the whole evening thereafter.

The following statement of particulars is presented by the management: Admission—For masks, gentlemen with ladies, $2; spectators, tickets, $1. Reserved seats 50 cents extra.

All tickets can be procured at the book-store of Messrs. Lewin & Co., Temple Block.

Particular care will be taken that parties who have procured reserved seats shall have no trouble in obtaining the same.

All masks will enter at the rear of the hall.

Tickets for masks can be procured at the stores of Marxsen Bros., C. Brode, J. Kuhrt, H. Schindler, and from Mr. Eckert at the U. S. Hotel.

Spectators' tickets can be obtained at all the principal stores, from the members of the Turn-Verein, and in the evening at the door.

Costumes can be procured at the Turn-Verein hall from Monday, February 7th, till Saturday, February 12th.

Board of Supervisors.

This body has closed its labors and adjourned until March 6th.

Since our last report they have transacted the following business:

The consideration of the road connecting Calhoun road No. 2, with the city limits was deferred until March 7th.

Isaac Ernst was appointed constable of Wilmington township, vice Lamore resigned.

The salary of the County Physician was raised to $1,000 per annum.

The delinquent tax list was ordered published in the Cronicle at a cost not exceeding fifty dollars.

A resolution was adopted asking the Legislature to authorize the County Supervisors to select a site for a hospital and poor farm, outside of the city limits at a cost not exceeding $20,000 in bonds.

Walk and Talk.

At the Pico House banquet held Sunday after Christmas last, a walking match was made up between a brother quill of this city and a gentleman from Santa Monica. The wager was laid for a walk from Los Angeles to Santa Monica, to take place the following Sunday, the one who got through first and in best condition to be the winning man. At the time appointed the Santa Monica party presented himself, ready for action, but the pedestrian editor had a pressing engagement and couldn't walk that day. Then another time was fixed, when the pedestrian P. E. was to report at Santa Monica and the two would reverse the walk as originally planned, but this engagement also went by default and no editor reported. Now for the credit of Los Angeles and the profession we must protest against such a back-out on the part of our champion. We are confident of his ability to out-Weston Weston in a fair heel and toe contest, and we want to see this match come off and the Santa Monica man beaten. Won't our solid man come up to the scratch?

The Social.

We only had time to look in a few minutes upon the social at Col. Peel's last night. The house was crowded with as happy, smiling faces as we ever saw. And why shouldn't they be happy, with music, tableaux, parlor games, anecdotes, social conversation, the table loaded with refreshments and hearts filled with charity and good will to all men? We like a religion which makes people cheerful.

Passengers Coming.

The steamer Mohongo which left San Francisco at 9 A. M. yesterday brought the following passengers: J. Shall, Mrs. C. J. Miller, Miss E. F. Smith, L. Nonheimer and wife, W. H. Minster, J. R. Brown, A. J. Casey, S. J. Welch, R. Falloco, B. Shaw, R. C. McPherson and family, G. Higgins and wife, B. Nuttal, R. Bunn, Mrs. Baldwin, Miss E. Tornbeck, Mrs. J. Shellerseder, Rev. Mr. Blakeslee, C. P. Fogel, H. L. Kendrick, wife and child, A. McPhee and wife, Mrs. A. R. Curry, J. E. E. Kinley, W. H. Toier, Mrs. Roschid, J. Pemberton, J. Prisk, W. Candy, F. Hernandez, J. D. Jartigue, W. Morris, A. Jorega, C. O. Davis, J. M. Haggett and wife, F. W. Ludevole.

When he came home to supper his wife said: "George this is my uncle, Mr. Walker, from Brooklyn. Mr. Walker, will you ask the blessing?" Mr. Walker asked the blessing. George ate sparingly, seemed to be uneasy, and finally he asked the blessing and he came from Brooklyn. He may be a minister." After that he didn't say much, but just neglected his business for three or four days, and remained around home until Mr. Walker was gone.

Gleanings.

M. S. Hall, the railroad contractor, is at the St. Charles.

Mr. John M. Wells, of Prescott, is at the St. Charles.

Mr. E. Lucas, of Santa Monica, is at the St. Charles.

Rev. Newman Lloyd, D. D. of San Francisco, is at the Grand Central.

The Grand Central Wine Room will be opened on February 22d.

The jumping match between Lucas and Wesley takes place at Agricultural Park on Monday, at 2 P. M.

F. H. McCormick and Charles Welder, of the Central Pacific Railroad, are at the Grand Central.

The late squall took off the roof of Mr. Berry's barn at San Pasqual. It was a squally time at San Pasqual.

The Masonic ladies of this city are organizing a chapter of the Eastern Star to be called Acacia.

The great auction sale of semi-tropical fruit trees by Jones & Noyes for Mr. Eberly will positively take place on Monday morning next.

Mr. George Cummings is about building a $4,000 residence on the Mount Pleasant tract. It will be built near the Lopez homestead.

Among the guests at the Grand Central, is C. D. Robinson, general freight auditor of the Southern Pacific Railroad, who is here on a visit with his wife.

Under the head of "Are they quacks?" the News Letter publishes "Hobbs," Los Angeles. It is evident that the News Letter man has been here, but we protest against this slanderous style.

Mrs. S. A. Shepard will deliver a temperance lecture Sunday afternoon at 3:30, in Good Templars' hall. She comes here with high references as an interesting speaker.

Dr. Lucky has sent to the Board of Education his resignation as Principal of the High School and City School Superior. He will resign the resignation to take effect in May.

Mr. Chapman, of the Santa Monica hotel, who was in town yesterday, informs us that he is kept busy entertaining excursion parties from Los Angeles. Crowds go down every day.

Mr. Lankershim has had four thousand acres planted in wheat in the San Fernando valley. Other parties had about two thousand acres more in the same section.

The great pigeon shooting match for $500 a side, between Mr. C. A. Loud, of San Francisco, and Mr. H. C. Wiley, of Los Angeles, which was to have taken place at Santa Monica next Sunday, has been postponed. Due notice will be given of the new day, which will be Monday while Mr. Loud will shoot next Sunday at Santa Monica, with a number of our amateur sportsmen, and the excursionists will be able to witness a fine trial of skill.

Lieut. Bergland will start his party out towards the Colorado river next Sunday. It will contain twelve persons besides himself, two of them enlisted men. He will have an observer in Los Angeles also. A six-mile team with wagon, and six pack-mules will carry the traps and supplies of the expedition. Lieut. Bergland himself will leave a few days after the expedition, and will probably return in a few days.

We wish to see a pleasant and successful experience. We should heartily like to see it demonstrated that it is practicable to reclaim the Colorado Desert by irrigation.

Attention, Smokers! 33 per cent. can be saved by buying fine cigars by the box. I have given up the retail business and am able to sell cigars by the box at San Francisco manufacturers' prices. Come to see me—I guarantee satisfaction. Saloons and the trade supplied at very low figures.
